DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1,2,3,6,12-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Note Applicant failed to make claim 13 in proper independent form (which was previously indicated as allowable subject matter) because all limitations of intervening claim 12 were not included.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 13, final line, recites "the flexible member" which lacks proper antecedence and is indefinite because it appears the limitation refers to the flexible configuration recited in line 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1,2,13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Alferness et al. US 2002/0169504 ("Alferness").

Alferness disclose in figures 1-4 a system for remodeling the mitral valve annulus comprising a catheter and implant having a first configuration and second remodeling configuration (paragraph 0049 describe Nitinol preformed shaped) and the catheter includes a control mechanism for selectively adjusting curvature (withdrawal of guide tube, or recapture of device paragraph 0063). The remodeling configuration comprises an arc (figure 2). Figures 3-4 show a rotational coupler meeting the structural limitations of claim 13 and capable of applying tension. Note as described above, the flexible member of claim 13 lacks specificity and is open to broad interpretation.

Claims 1,2,6, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Solem et al. US 2001/0018611 ("Solem").

Solem disclose in figures 2-6 and paragraphs 0048-0051 a system for remodeling the mitral valve annulus comprising a catheter and implant 8 having a first configuration (figure 5) and second remodeling configuration (paragraph 0050 when the sheath is retracted allowing hooks to penetrate tissue), and the catheter includes a control mechanism for selectively adjusting curvature (figure 6 where catheter 21 presses blades 18). The remodeling configuration comprises an arc (figure 3) and the device may include a coating (paragraph 0070). Rod 15 is readable upon the flexible member of claim 12 because the proximal end is attached to control mechanism 17,18 and the distal end 13 is attached to the distal end of the implant 8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Alferness et al. US 2002/0169504 or Solem et al. US 2001/0018611 as described above with respect to claim 1.

Each of Alferness and Solem meet the structural limitations of claim 3 as described above but each lack the express written disclosure of a radius within the range of about 10-20mm. However, each of Solem and Alferness are directed towards remodeling of a mitral valve annulus similar to that as applicant's device and each appear to show arcs having the claimed radii. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to select a device curvature of about 10-20mm in order to treat a particular patient's annulus deficiency.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
